RIOTING IN PARIS:

More Fruits of the Dreyfus Scandal.

NEWSPAPER OFFICES ARE GUARDED.

M. Pressense Arrested and Released Police Disperse the Rioters. Rumors of Cruel Treatment of Colonel Picquart.

PARIS, Oct. 3.-Despite the assertion that the French people are beginning to see the injustice of the terrible sentence imposed on ex-Captain Dreyfus, it appears to be an easy matter for blatant agitators to fan into a blaze the popular prejudice against the unfortunate prisoner and his race. An instance of this was given yesterday. Some of the supporters of revision of the Dreyfus case had convoked a meeting that was to open at noon in Wa-gram hall. M. Paul Deroulede, the notorious head of the League of Patriots which was suppressed by the government some years ago, and which Deroulede threatens to revive, had also called a pro-army meeting for yesterday When he learned of the revisionist meeting, he caused placards to be posted about the city, declaring that the meeting to uphold the army would be abandoned because it was his duty to be present in Wagram hall to meet the insulters of the army.

The authorities expected that Deroulede's presence in Wagram hall would result in a riot, and the proprietor of the hall was quietly notified that it would be better if the meeting was not held. Consequently when the organizers of the meeting arrived they found the hall closed. They knocked repeatedly upon the doors, but the proprietor refused to open the hall for them. MM Vaughan Pressense and Norhardt, who were the principal leaders, insisted upon their right to hold the meeting, and they finally became so determined upon entering the hall that they were arrested This caused a tumuit in the crowd that had assembled outside, and the gendarmes were kept busy restoring order. It was decided then that no further attempt to hold the meeting should be

At just about this time Deroulede arrived on the scene. Finding the hall closed, he made a speech to the crowd which had grown to be very large, and which he addressed as patriots. He said he had come to acclaim the army, and having attained this end it now only remained to demand the liberation of the insulters of the army. This brought forth cries of "Vive Deroulede'" "Vive 'l'armee!" from the crowd Deroulede announced that he was going to the police office to demand, as a member of the chamber of deputies, the release of the two worst foes France had, meaning MM. Pressense, editor of the Temps, and Vaughan, director of the Aurore. M. Norhardt, the other prisoner, belongs to the League for the Protection of the Rights of Citizens.

After some parleying M. Deroulede and M. Habert, another member of the chamber of deputies, went to the police station, where MM. Pressense and Vaughan protested against their interference. They declared that they had been arrested when they refused on legal grounds to leave the entrance of Wagram hall, for which they had paic the rent in advance. They added that they wer- attacked by gangs of toughs and that the police arrested them instead of the aggressors

There was considerable disorder throughout the city in the afternoon the antirevisionists shouting "A bas l'Aurore" and "A bas Jaures" Fifty arrests were made.

M. Pressense and his companions were subsequently liberated.

An immense crowd gathered in the boulevard at night Policemen were drawn up on both pavements in front of the offices of the Libre Parole from a window of which an enormous flag was flying on which was the inscription 'La France aux les Francaise." The side streets were filled with police, but the only casualties thus far reported are a number of cracked heads.

An ugly statement is made by the Petita Republique to the effect that Colonel Picquart, who had previously taken exercise in the courtyard of the jail daily, has not left his cell since Thursday, when he was seized with symptoms of cerebral congestion, followed by coma. There is no means however of verifying the statements Although the disorders have not beer attended with serious results, they have created intense alarm among the foreigners at the hotels and it is probable that an exodus will occur, the guests fearing grave developments. The working classes so far have held aloof, but the leaders of the rival parties are do ing their utmost to stir them up, and it is believed that the disorders will be repeated.

CHINESE EMPEROR DEAD. Belleved to Have Been Killed by Dowager Empress' Order.

LONDON, Oct. 3.-A. dispatch from Shanghai says it is semiofficially announced there that the emperor of China committed suicide on Sept. 21.

The announcement of the death of the emperor is confirmed by a later dispatch from the same place. The reports as to the means employed in his taking off differ. One story has it that he died by poison, another that death was caused by strangulation and a third that he was subjected to frightful torture, a redhot iron being thrust through his bowels.

Earlier advices from Shanghai say that telegrams furnished by the toatai, or local governor, to a Chinese paper there alleged that the emperor of China committed suicide on Sept. 21, after signing the decree's which placed the dowager empress at the head of affairs in China. This, it is added, is understood to mean that the emperor was assassinated.

All the English speaking secretaries and the principal members of the Chinese foreign office, it is further announced, have been seized and ban-

It is the general opinion that the emperor has been done to death by the dowager empress, who, it now appears, was once a barmaid in a Chinese liquor shop.

The emperor of China is known to have shown lately leanings toward Christianity, and it was recently reported that he had burned the Confucian classics in the palace.

The man who will now ascend the throne of China is Yin, a grandson of Prince Kung. He is a good looking, intelligent young man of decidedly proforeign leanings. He is regarded by the Chinese as being the legitimate successor of the emperor's predecessor, Kwang-Hau. Englishmen who have met Yin declare he will not be a puppet, like his predecessor. He has a stronger will, and, moreover, is not related to the dowager empress.

Another Big Storm In Southern Georgia.

ENORMOUS DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Ships Are Driven Ashore and Crops Ruined-No News From Sea Islands, and It is Feared Many Lives Have Been Lost. SAVANNAH, Oct. 3.-For 15 hours, from 3 o'clock yesterday morning until o'clock last night, Savannah was in the grasp of a West Indian cyclone. During that time the wind blew steadily from 50 to 70 miles an hour. While the city escaped with comparatively little damage, the loss of property among the sea islands of the Georgia and South Carolina coasts is believed to be heavy. For miles in every direction around Savannah the lowlands along the rivers are submerged.

Only one fatality has so far been reported, the drowning of a negro while attempting to reach the mainland from a small island near Thunderbolt, but heavy loss of life is feared from the South Carolina sea islands, where such awful loss of life occurred during the great tidal storm of 1893. The conditions now are similar to those during that storm. Owing to the submerged country and the isolated location of the islands no news can be had from them until the water subsides.

For eight miles north of Savannah the entire country is a lake with only the hemlocks visible. At noon the water was eight feet above the highest tide, Driven on shore by the northeast storm. it filled up on the islands, swept over banks and dams, carrying away the remnant of the rice crop that was left by the August storm and had not been gathered and wiping out farm crops. The loss to rice growers alone will be from $50,000 to $75,000. Of the entire rice erop along the Savannah river, valued at $150,000, all but about 15 per cent was lost in this and the preceding storm. The damage to shipping is considerable. The schooner Governor Ames, which was on her way to sea with a cargo of 1,500,000 feet of lumber, went adrift in the harbor, but was secured safely. The wharfs at the quarantine station at the entrance to the river here were partially carried away. The quarantine officer and his family and servants were rescued early in the day by a tug. Four vessels which were at anchor at the station were torn from their moorings and driven into the marshes. Three of these were the British schooner Syanara, bound from St. John, N. B.; the American schooner Milleville, for Milleville, N. J.; the Fannie L. Child, for Boston, all lumber laden, and the Italian bark Franklin. How badly these vessels are damaged is unknown. No news has been received from Tybee since early yesterday morning, and nothing is known of the damage there.

At Thunderbolt and Isle of Hope, suburbs of Savannah, all the boathouses on the banks and hundreds of small boats were carried away

The extent to which the railroads sufered is not fully The naval stores and cotton and lumber yards of the Plant system are submerged, and the tracks of the Central of Georgia and Georgia and Alabama roads around the city are covered. The northbound express on the F. C. & P. railroad, due here from Florida at noon, has not yet arrived. Telegraph wires, except one wire over the Western Union lines, are down, and the condition of the railroad tracks is unknown.

The telephone, police, light and fire alarm wires are down and the city is in

On Hutchinson's Island, opposite Savannah, and separating the city from the South Carofina shore, there were many negro families rescued by beats from the revenue steamers Tybee and Boutwell.

All day rescuing parties were at work. Last night the wind had subsided, but the water, which receded with the -bb of the tide during the afternoon, has again risen. Considerable anxiety is felt for shipping at sea. The O. S. S. company's steamer Nacoochee, for New York, and the Merchants and Miners steamer D H Miller, for Baltimore went to sea Saturday night. The City of Macon of the Ocean Steamship line has not arrived, and the City of Aunight

The extent of the storm is unknown Until telegraphic communication is restored or news received from the country between Savannah and Jacksonville, over which the heaviest part of the storm passed, the full extent of its damage cannot be told.

The Spanish community is telegraphing to Madrid in an endeavor to secure the enforcement of the release of pris-oners. Personal investigations made in the provinces emphasize the determination of the insurgents to obtain a specific guarantee of favorable terms before releasing the prisoners now in their hands, and it is certain that they will never cheaply relinquish their dearly bought conquests. Everywhere is seen evidences of appalling struggles. Popular opinion favors autonomy, which, it is generally expected, will be established. The people rather distrust the Americans, who, beginning to realize this fact, sent the cruiser Raleigh to the northwestern ports for the purpose of showing the American flag and making friends with the natives. The cruiser's officers endeavored to arrange an interchange of hospitalities, but the natives at first were unwilling to visit the ship unless hostages were landed. Finally, however, friendly feeling was established, and the natives were agreeably surprised at the American attitude. A sanitary board, with an American at its head, has been established here. A corps of physicians are superintending sanitary work in all the districts of the city and vicinity.

Hospital Ship Horrors-Captain Meadoza Averts a Riot.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 3.-Surgeon Major Seaman of the transport Obdam declares that there will be a repetition of the awful horrors that have characterized the voyage home of the other transports if more sick soldiers are sent on board the vessel for transportation to New York. He says that when the Obdam left Porto Rico many on board were sick, yet the first quartermaster refused to furnish wine for their use, but supplied them with hard tack and canned food, saying that he had no authority to do more. Surgeon Seaman said he would hold him responsible should any deaths occur, and finally succeeded in obtaining suitable food for those who were ill. He asserts that the ship has every man that she can carry and that if she reaches New York without any deaths occurring she will be lucky.

Hearing that a number of other sick soldiers were to be sent aboard here. the surgeon major made a protest and stated that he was informed by General Lawton that his protest showed lack of discipline and that an officer had been appointed to see how many additional men the Obdam could carry.

Surgeon Seaman says he will cable to Surgeon General Sternberg a protesi disclaiming responsibility for whatever may happen.

HUSKS BECOME DOLLS.

Funny Little Figures Made by an Old Colored Woman for Her Little Charges.

Making a small bundle of some soaked corn busks, says a writer in Youth's Companion, the old colored woman tied a knot at one end.

"What's that for mammy?" I asked, "His haid, child, an' dis yere's his hair." And she put some of the silk by the knot and tied it about the neck with a strip of the tougher husk. Next she chose a fine, smooth, broad piece, of a beautiful light green, and folded it across. She put a cord in the fold, and drew it up like a running string. This she tied about the knot, being careful that the "hair" should come up through the middle, and when she had tied another string about the neck it made a fine covering for the head, almost as good as a rag baby's. The | arms came next, and these were made | by dividing the husks below the head into three parts; one on each side for the arms, and one in the middle for the body.

DOG AND CAT CHUMS.

Pussy Catches Squirrels and Rabbits, Points Game Birds and Adopts # Kitten.

Farmer John Cook's brindle cat Cuba points quail and catches young gray squirrels in the mountain back of his house. Cuba's chum is a three-year-old shepherd dog named Charley. They do not hunt together, but on returning from her excursions after small game to the fields and woods close by, Cuba purrs around the dog, rubs her sleek fur against his neck, and puts her nose to his, as if to tell of her success.

"She gets a squirrel or a chipmunk nearly every day," says Billy Cook, "and she knows where to find young rabbits. She's tried hard to find the nest of a couple of quails that have just raised a brood in the field next to our house. Once I found her pointing one of the old ones. The bird was sitting on a stump, with its back to her. If I hadn't come along she'd have crept up and nabbed it, sure."

Cuba's special pet is a maltese kitten, two weeks old, belonging to another cat. Cuba's own litter, being agly, and there being no demand for more cats on the Cook place, were all drowned. If they'd lived they'd now be about the age of the maltese kitten, which has been named Puerto Rico. Cuba grabs Puerto Rico wherever she finds him and runs off to fondle and nurse him. Puerto Rico's own mother looks on with no apparent objection when the brindle cat carries away her offspring by the back of the neck. Sometimes all three -the maltese, the brindle and the maltese kitten-lie down together in the sun and snooze. The kitten's mother seems to approve of the foster mother; she licks the brindle cat's fur and shows the most evident good feeling toward her. At times when the kitten's own mother grabs her kitten by the scruff of the neck and carries her off, the brindle cat roams disconsolately about, uttering plaintive cries.

At these times she is likely to go off on a little hunting expedition all by herself. One day last week she brought in a long-tailed field mouse and laid it down under an apple tree in the yard, retiring to a distance of a foot or two, as if to encourage the poor creature to escape. The grass was wet and the field mouse couldn't jump far. After a half dozen leaps Cuba caught it and brought it back. The mouse didn't seem to be injured, but it couldn't jump more than two or three inchesata time. It looked half dead of fright. Chickens were feeding in the yard, and one of them picked up the mouse and ran. The cat, ostentatiously looking away, was dumfounded on turning its head toward its victim to find that it had disappeared. With a ludicrous leap that carried her four or five feet puss sprang forward snarling, fur bristling, and eyes popped. She hadn't seen that the chicken had her prev. but her appearance was so fierce that the feathered thief dropped the mouse and ran squawking away Puss then ate the mouse at two mouth fuls.-Bushkill (Pa) Letter in N. teenth army corps of the Army of the Tennessee, and participated in its campaigns, sieges and battles.

As a regimental commander he fought with his regiment in the battles of Columbia, Duck River, Spring Hill, Franklin and Nashville and throughout the Nashville campaign. In 1865 he was on the staff of Maj. Gen. A. J. Smith, the commander of the Sixteenth army corps, and remained with Smith until the end of the war. Upon the assault and capture of the Spanish fort, Mobile, Ala., April 8, 1865, he had his left leg broken below the knee, being struck by a piece of shell weighing 17 ounces. He was wounded at the battle of Franklin and at the battle of Nashville.

Afer the war he remained two years in Alabama, working a plantation near Montgomery. In 1867 he returned to Chicago and founded the firm of J. A. & T. S. Sexton. In 1872, after the Chicago fire, this firm was succeeded by Cribben, Sexton & Co., and is still manufacturing stoves, hollowware, etc. Col. Sexton has been a progressive and active citizen in every movement for the public. President Harrison made him postmaster of Chicago in April, 1889. Col. Sexton gave himself up to his duties as postmaster and did much to make the office a well-managed public concern.

The world's fair was held during his term. He is an active worker in the grand army, the military order of the Loyal Legion and other soldier and grand army societies. He is a past commander of the department of Illinois, Grand Army of the Republic. At the present time he is president of the board of trustees of the Illinois state Soldiers' and Sailors' home located at Quincy. He has been a presidential elector, a Lincoln park commissioner, a colonel in the Illinois national guard, and has held several positions of honor and responsibility in the state...

CURIOUS TREE GROWTH.

it Is Considered an Emblem of Peace by the Citizens of Fort Delaware, Del.

The curious growth depicted in the illustration, reproduced from the Strand Magazine, is found at Fort Delaware, Del. The history of the tree is as follows: A number of caissons were placed there during the civil war and until a few months ago were left there untouched. As the ground was very damp in this spot, a sprig grew up between the wheels of the caissons, until it developed into a large tree, forcing its way ambitiously and breaking the spokes. The rest of the caissons fell to pieces when they were moved, but this one was allowed to remain. The branches and leaves were cut away in order to show the effect, as we get it in the illustration. The tree is a wellknown curiosity of the district and attracts many visitors.

The Most Successful Affair of the Elad Ever Given in This County-The Interest of Those Present Maintained Till Sarkness Casso-The Prize Winners.

The horse show at Goshen, Saturday, was unquestionably the most successful affair of its kind over held in Orange county. The attendance was very large -there being but a few unoccupied seats in the grand stand, and these had all been sold. Not a seut could be procured in the grand stand after 1:30. In consequence, many ladies who had anticipated purchasing seats, were forced to take their chances in the crowd that lined

The show was a fine one all the way through, and the interest of the people was held to such a late hour that the special train to Tuxedo was delayed until 6:30. The greater part of the crowd remained until darkness approached, and only missed the last flat race and the last class, in which only two horses competed.

There was but little criticism of the awards made by the judges, but plenty of applause. The Harriman, Tracy and Bain stables made fine showings and naturally captured most of the prizes on pure merit. The S. S. Howland display was missed, however.

The flag incident was a pretty one. Boss Hock threw himself into oratory with the recklessness of a rough rider. and "Reggie" Ronalds, who was a real rough rider, and who was in the fight at Santiago, was expected to climb down from the half-coach, half-undertaker's wagon, from Tuxedo, and hoist the flag, but his courage failed him him completely, and but few knew who the rough rider was whom Mr. Hock referred to, and not a few thought he was only fooling and had used the opportunity to spring the name of "Teddy" Roosevelt for political effect. If such had been the case and, of course, all who know Mr. Hock know that it wasn't, the result was not particularly satisfac-

Mr. Harriman received the applause of the day, when he drove Stamboul down the stretch at a 2:08 clip.

Tuskegee Normal School Quartette.

The male quartette of Tuskegee Normal School and Industrial Institute will sing in the chapel of the First Congregational Church in this city, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock. Robert W. Taylor, representing the institution, will also present its work in a brief address. Admission will be free, and the public are earnestly invited to attend. This is the school presided over by Booker T. Washington, whose work for his race is honored the world over.

Too Old for the Reformatory and There: fore Seat to Prison.

Judge Beattie, at Goshen, Saturday. entenced one Cassidy, charged with burglary in the third degree, to prison for a term of three and one-half years.

Cassidy had previously been sent to the Elmira Reformatory, he having claimed that he was 29 years old. It was learned that he was 31, and as no one ever 30 can be sent to Elmira, he was returned to be sentenced.

Concret Wheeler Defende ministration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.-Nearly all the members of the commission for the investigation of the conduct of the war are expected to be present at the sitting today.

Examination of witnesses will begin regularly tomorrow, and General Wheeler is expected to be first called. General Wheeler, with his son, Lieutenant Joseph Wheeler, Jr., arrived in Washington yesterday.

General Wheeler stated last night that he expected to remain here as long as the commission desired him. In answer to a question, General Wheeler said:

"I had prepared to make a general statement, but if the commission wishes it I shall answer specific complaints as they are made. I do not believe a camp was ever better provided in every way for the comfort and health of the troops than Camp Wikoff. There were in Camp Wikoff about 25,000 men from Santiago and other points, 10,000 of whom, lacking six, were immediately put into the hospitals.

"Of the other troops nearly half were sick, and the sight of suffering was, therefore, necessary. Many women offered their services. I know it was only from their tender hearted interest. I could see that in their every action. But this very tenderness caused them, when they saw the men in such suffering, to ery out and make complaints when everything was being done that could have been done for an army of men.

"It was war, and the men were in a bad state, but it could not be helped. If there be any blame to come while I was there, it should be put on me. A commanding officer is responsible for the well being of his men, and I shall not nd.aror to escape that responsibility by trying to shift it upon any one else. am certain that no complaint came from any of the regulars."

Asked as to the part Santiago would in the investigation. General reeler said:

here would have been more prepaand less haste had it not been for dispatch from Admiral Sampson ng that with 10,000 men he could " the city, and so they were hurried

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPERSIA.

To Cain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Dizest fon Bean, Make a Test of Stuarc's Dyspepsia

Tablets

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Cemtleman,

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame, are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines and spring remedies; the real seat of mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the origin to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepties often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptons of stomach wenkness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ, in some cases the heart palpitares and is irregular: in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still other; re-troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with the accumulation of gas, sour rising. and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufterer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four or five years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable results. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the med cine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits. being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notority, but is based on actual facts."

Respectfully yours, A. W. Sharper,

61 Prospect St., Indianopils, Ind. It is sale to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tabelts will care any stomach weakness, or disease except cancer of the stomach, They cure sour stomach, gas, loss of flesh and appetite, steeplessness, palpitation, heartburn, constipation and heal-

For Attorney-General, THOMAS P CONWAY, of Clinton. for American and Solveyor,
MARTIN "CHENCK, of Rensselser

Judge Van Wyck, baving resigned his seat on the bench, is preparing to make ing of the "hurrah boys" about it, but ; in all his public utterances he will calmly, dispassionately and mirly discuss public questions and endeavor to convince the citizens of the State that their interests require that Platt's grip on the State government be loosened.

It is positively asserted that Platt has given a solemn pledge that he will curb any presidential ambitions that Roosevelt may have in 1900 and give New York's support for McKinley's renomination. In return Mark Hanna has agreed to see to it that a big campaign fund is placed at Platt's disposal to aid him in electing Roosevelt and a Republican legislature and Republican congresamen.

The question of Roosevelt's eligibility was not settled by the cheers of his partisans in the Republican convention, nor does the labored argument or his attorney, Elihu Root, carry, as is assumed by Republican papers, the weight and importance of a indicial opinion. The question is so important that it will nave to be passed upon by the courts, either before or after election day and every consideration of the public welfare demands its judicial determination before election.

T! e Republican Senatorial convention, which mer at Newburgh, Saturday, and nominated Louis F. Goodsell merely ratified a nomination that the party bosses had made long before in secret conclave. Mr. Goodsell owes his political advancement simply and solely to the fact that at all times and under all circumstances he has been blindly loyal to the muchine. He has never questioned an order that he has received and is therefore regarded as a safe man. He has been Supervi-or of his town for a number of years and has represented the First District in the Assembly for three terms. By Odell's orders he has been given good committee assignments, but in spite of the opportunities thus afforded he has been a conspicuously reconspicuous member and has never said or done anything to warrant his advance ment to the Swate.

Arraigned in a London Police Court To-day, Identification.

LONDON. Oct. 3 .- Dr. Nancy Guilford, the mid-wife of Bridgeport, Conn., or the woman suspected of being Dr. Guilford, was remainded at the Bow street police court here, to-day, for a week, after evidence had been presented proving her identity with the weman who landed at Liverpool, last week, from the steamer Vancouver. The Initials "N. A. G." were found on articles in her possession. The prisoner listened unmoved to evidence presented against her.

A Liverpool detective identified the prisoner as the passenger who arrived by the Vancouver and a clerk of the U. S. Embassy asked for her remand pending the arrival of papers from America. Dr. Guilford was then removed to a cell without having spoken a word during the proceedings.

OBITUARY.

Brs. Sarah J. Pox.

Mrs. Sarah J. Fox died at her home in Buffalo, Saturday morning, aged about sixty-five years.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Samuel Wilkinson, and Louis Wilkinson, of this city is a surviving nephew.

Her first husband was William Sands, whom she married in the town of Crawford. Her second husband was the late Maurice Fox, of Buffalo.

One sister, Mrs. Mary D. Penney and a daughter, Mrs. George Spencer, both of Buffalo, are also survivors.

Teresa Mongan.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Mongan, of No. 40 Knapp avenue, are mourning the loss of their little daugter, Teresa, who departed this life, Sunday evening, Oct. 2d, after a brief illness, following an attack of mumps. She was five years and three months old. Tessie, as she was familiarly known, was a bright and interesting child, who began going to school the beginning of death.

the present school year, but whose career was ruthlessly cut short by the hand of Mr. and Mrs. Mongan have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their great sorrow. Michael Walsh.

Assistant Street Superintendent John J. Walsh received a telegram, this morning, announcing the death of his father, Michael Walsh, at Paterson. The telegram gave no particulars beyond the fact that death was due to heart disease, and since no word had been sent of his llness it is supposed that the final summons came very suddenly. Mr. Walsh was in his sixty-seventh year, and had for eight years held a situation in the Paterson park department. Before removing to that city he lived for thirty years near Denton, and is well remembered as an honest, industrious man and a good citizen. He is survived by his wife and eight children: John J., Michael and Mrs. Edward Flood, of this city; William, of Newark; Mrs. William Eckers, of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mrs. Mary Morris and James and Agnes, of Paterson.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

LIBERTY STREET SCHOOL CLOSED

Four Cases of Diphtheria cmong Pupits Lead to Prempt tetion by

The Liberty street school is closed, today, by an order of the Board of Health passed at a special session held Sunday night, in the council chamber. There are four cases of diphtheria among pupils in attendance on that school. The action of the Board of Health is taken merely as a precautionary measure, on the theory that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The few cases of diphtheria that now exist are not of a malignant form, and there is no occasion for alarm, but experience has shown the wisdom of promptly dealing with this disease, and the remarkable freedom from it that the city has enjoyed has been entirely due to the just that the Health Board has been prompt and vigilant in dealing with sporadic cases whenever they have oc-from girlhood into womanhood.

At this momentous time the best medicine for a woman to take is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the delicate and important organs that are to bear the burdens of wifehood and motherhood. It makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It corrects all irregularities and displacements and stops exhausting drains. Taken during the period of expectant maternity, it banishes the usual annoyances and makes baby's coming easy and almost painless. It insures the new-comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous, complaining women into happy, healthy wives. Thousands of women have told over their own signatures, the story of the marvelous signatures, the story of the marvelous merits of this great medicine. An honest dealer will not try to persuade you to take something different from what you ask for, for the sake of a few pennies ad-

"What did his mamma say?" asked the boy, a little anxiously. "Well, I was goin' to tell you that.

About supper time Mrs.-Mrs. Reagan comes down, an' she says: 'Have you seen that noaccount boy of mine, Mr. Connolly?' An' I says: 'Yes'm; he shalked up the walls with my chalk an' I t'rowed him in the furnace. guess he's about burnt up by this time.' An' she says, says she: 'You done quite right, Mr. Connolly-thank you, Mr. Connolly,"

The janitor paused and looked at the little boy steadfastly, his hands resting on his knees. The boy looked back searchingly at him, and at last smiled broadly and incredulously.

"I don't b'lieve it." he said, with an air of decision. "You wouldn't hurt anybody. My ma said you was too easy with the children, an' she wouldn't have said that if you burnt them up. I think you jes' made up that story. Lemme go. August: I want to play three-old-car with Willie."

As he broke away the janitor caught him and held him for a moment. "Now, look here," he said, "if you get up to any more mischlef down here I'll speak to Officer Noonan about you. I'm not joshin' you now." This time the boy looked impressed and went out of the basement with his . I han ing: but he recovered in time to whoop at the janitor's cat as he pass of her on the stairs, and August. presing through the smoky window a to moments later saw him with a it its of his own age throwing coal at a binana vender from the vantage go sund of the courtyard.

"You can't bluff that kid," remarked to janitor. "All the same, his dad will l. .. to put up for a new mop for Au-. ... He does it pretty easy, though, as a general thing. He's all the kid they've got, an' they was about 12 years waitin' for him. I reckon if he set fire to the buildin' he'd say: 'Oh, well, we vas all young wanst, an' then would sk if we had estimated the loss so he could draw his check.

"There was a time when they didn't allow no children here, an' the place was as well ordered as a millionaire's family vault; but, quiet as it was, it ep th' agent hustlin' to get tenants. They was all right what he got, but there wasn't enough of them, an' there was half a dozen soots empty as a dago's linner bucket half-afternoon most of th' time. It used to break the agent's heart when some swell guy would say: Well, I like the apartments an' I guess I'll take them. Here's my giltedge references. Make out my lease an' here's my check. I presume you've in' worse an' worse, until at last the agent took a trip to New Hampshire, where the owners live, an' when he come back he let down the bars." "Well, yes, on the whole, I like it better. Of course, it isn't as quiet as it was before, but then it's not as monotonous. You can expect something about all the time, an' it's generally a surprise. As a usual thing I keep them out of the basement, but they break in once in awhile—this feller's about the worst of them for that.

"I've felt sometimes like pickin' him up an' beatin' th' dust out of his little breeches for him. I've got a sort of an idea that it would do him good; but I've been kind of easy with him for the last few weeks. He got to makin' trips up an' down the little parcel elevator, pallin' himself up by the rope an' knockin' at the panels on the different floors as he passed. He nearly scared two girls to death one evenin'. I caught him finally an' gave him a song an' dance about skinnin' him an' b'ilin' him in oil, an' I thought he'd quit it, but it wasn't a week after when I went to send a basket of peaches up to 80, I found the elevator gone. "I was just goin' to whistle up, when I heard a scream that made my blood run cold, an' the elevator come whizzin' down the shaft an' smashed all to smithereens at the foot. I knew what had happened in a flash, an' I felt sick to my stomach. I would have given $100 to have been anywhere else but where I was; but, seein' I was there, I stepped up an' made a grab at somethin' that showed white through th' dust. It was th' kid all right, an' he wasn't as limp as I expected. In a minute he had got breath enough to howl, an' it seemed to me that I never heard a pleasanter sound in my life. That brought his mother down, an' when she seen what had happened she dropped in a dead faint. Then the old man come an' half a dozen other people who had heard the yell an' the smash, an' we had a circus down there for ten minutes.

"Well, his hands was burnt by the ope a little where it had slipped through his fingers, but you might say there wasn't a scratch on him. When it was all over I went out an' bought muself a drink an' I let the kid loaf with me at the bench all next mornin'. : had a little paintin' to do in the ofterroon, an' he upset a lot of the paint over himself, and then went drippin' upstairs without consultin' me about it. August put in four hours on the

CAROLINE HOYTDEAD

Beautiful Actress Dies In Childbirth.

CHILD DIED WITH ITS MOTHER.

One of the Noted Beauties of the American Stage-Her Success In Her Husband's Plays-The Playwright Prostrated With Grief.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Caroline Miskel Hoyt, wife of Charles H. Hoyt, a well known playwright and theatrical manager, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at her home, Madison avenue and Thirtieth street. A child, which cost the young mother's life, died also.

Mrs. Hoyt was regarded as one of the most beautiful of the younger actresses of the American stage. She last appeared a year ago as the star in "A Contented Woman," the play written for her by her husband. In it her sweetness of manner and vivacious art won for her increased popularity. Her death comes as a shock to hosts of friends in this city and throughout the country. Mrs. Hoyt was born in Covington. Ky., in 1873. She was the daughter of

CAROLINE MISKEL HOYT.

Menzies of Covington and to Dr. John Murphy and Carl Menzies of Cincinnati. While she was still quite young her parents removed to Toronto, Canada, where her father still resides. Her parents did not at first approve of a stage career for their daughter, but were finally won over, and she came to this city to become an actress. She made her debut in a small part in Augustin

Daly's theater in 1892. Her beauty and talent won for her prompt recognition. She spent the following season in the company of Robert Mantell, playing leading roles. An engagement as Ruth in "A Temperance Town," early in 1893, was followed by her marriage to the author, Mr. Hoyt. When she appeared in "A Temperance

Town," a sensation was created by her remarkable beauty. Critics spoke glowingly of the tall, stately young actress with Titian hair, a creamy complexion, fine, even white teeth, a fresh, hearty laugh and magnificent arms and shoul-Their verdict was that Mr. Hoyt could not have found an actress so well fitted for the role of the minister's daughter. Miss Miskel had known what it was to do "walking parts," and while confessedly ambitious frankly admitted that she had much to learn about her

She played Phobe in "As You Like It" and Maria in "The School For Scandal" in her early stage days.

The funeral will be held today in Charlestown, N. H., Mr. Hoyt's native state, and where he is a member of the legislature.

Escaped Burglar Captured.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 3.-Harry Harris, indicted for burglary and grand larceny, who escaped from Essex county jail on Nov. 27, 1897, by digging through the wall, has been captured at Ticonderoga and lodged in jail again. He had enlisted in the Sixty-fifth New York regiment and had his uniform on when arrested. Harris is said to have deserted from the Sixty-fifth New York regiment before the close of hostilities and is therefore liable to heavy pumshment. He will be taken to Pittsburg barracks and turned over to the government.

New Transpacific Line.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 3.-The Canadian Pacific railroad will establish another Transpacific line almost immediately. The steamers Tartar and Athenian of over 4,500 tons each will be run between Vancouver and Vludivostok, the terminus of the Transsiberian line. The Atheman will sail first, loading here with lumber and rails for the Siberian line, and then proceeding to Seattle and Portland, where grain will probably be placed aboard for famine stricken Russians.

Train Bobbers Sentenced.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 3 -Jim Garlington has been convicted of train robbery and murder and given the death penalty. Three others will be tried next week for complicity in the same affair, a hold up of a Santa Fe passenger train near here for the purpost of robbery.

"OUR SKOTHER, THE PRISONER."

Address of W. F. M. Zound, of the Prison Association, at St. Paul's Church-Prisons and Prison Life and the Work of the Association,

The union meeting in St. Paul's M. E. Church, Sunday afternoon, was well attended by representatives of the different churches of the city. The clergy occupied chairs within the chancel rail, and Rev. David Winters and W. M. F. Round occupied the pulpit seats.

Dr. Wilson, pastor of the church, presided, and called upon Rev. Frank A. Heath, of the First Baptist Church, to read a scriptural lesson. Mr. Heath was followed by Rev. Mr. Winters, who offered an enruest prayer.

Dr. Wilson, in introducing Mr. Round, the Secretary of the Prison Association of New York, made a few remarks bearing on the objects of the association.

Mr. Round is a pleasant, entertaining speaker, who prefaced his remarks with a brief prayer. He thanked the congregation of St. Paul's and its pestor for giving the association the use of the church, and also the representatives of other churches who joined in welcoming

He gave but few statistics as to the work of the association but dwelt prinoply upon "pictures from life's other - de." He stated that in six penitentonies in the State there were nearly 4 100 prisoners, and that only 300 of t at number were women, confined in the woman's prison at Hudson, who were less prone to viciousness than men. He estimated that there were 80,000 criminals in the State, but only 11,000 pris-

The association had made many reforms in the prisons and county jails throughout the State and he dwelt upon the abuses of prison authorities in casting children among the contaminating influences of thieves, vagrants and drunkards, and referred to how the jails were overcrowded with misdemeanants that the jailors might reap the benefit, quoting cases of where prisoners were led for fifty-six cents a week, while in many cases the counties pay from $1.50 to $4.25 for each prisoner's keep.

The object of the association is to elevate the condition of the prisoners, to fit them to earn au honest living. The present prison system, he said, was not as bad as it was, for now there are thirty different trades taught in the prisons, so that when men emerge from the prison door they can go into the world with a means of earning a living. Their mental as well as spiritual wants are looked atter, and they are fitted for occupying a better sphere than that in which they were brought up.

Mr. Round spoke of the "indeterminate sentences" in Ohio, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, which paroled prisoners in order that the taint of the prison might not bar them from leading upright and honest lives. Also of the good he regarded as a model institution, which sought to elevate all who were sent to given every incentive for improvement, to go out into the world to make a beginning, but should they fail, they A Fire Company's Treasurer Missing. would be returned to the institution, as they remained wards of the State until they could look after themselves.

In closing his vemarks, Mr. Round spoke of the work of Michael Dunn, who was raised in ignorance by parents who were thieves, and who spent many years behind prison bars himself. He told how Dunn had come to the Prison Association for aid and the results that followed, which culminated in his establishing a home for discharged prisoners, and giving them an opportunity to mend their ways.

He appealed to the audience for a collection, not to defray the expenses of the Prison A-sociation, but to swell the fund which was used for the relief of discharged pusoners and prisoners' lami-

After the collection had been taken Dr. Wilson stated that the offering would be counted and turned over to Mr. Round, who would give a receipt for the same, and the receipt would be recorded in the church books.

In the evening Mr. Round spoke most interestingly and effectively at Grace church.

YOUNG AT SIXTY.

Serene comfort and happiness in advanced years are realized by comparatively few women.

Their hard lives, their liability to serious troubles on account of their peculiar organism and their profound ignorance concerning themselves, all combine to shorten the period of usefulness and fill their later years with suffering.

Mrs. Pinkham has done much to make women strong. She has given advice to many that has shown them how to guard against disease and retain vigorous health in old age. From every corner of the earth there is constantly coming the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 220 Horner St., Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I had trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female troubles."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparallelled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

Medical Advice

You need a doctor many times when you don't call one. You suffer pain in fifty forms and yet won't call the doctor, hecause you hope that the pain "will go away after a while." And, too, you know by experience, that that first visit of the doctor is generally followed by many others. with the inevitable consequence of a big bill "for professional services." You don't know what to do for yourself or what to take. But suppose that you could get free, absolutely free, the advice of one of the most in the United States? You can. The physician is right here. He has an office in the building, he has a staff of correspondents to assist him, and anyone and everyone, who needs medical advice is invited to write to him. If it's baby's health or mother's or the health of any member of the family you may write about it, sure of a careful reading of your letter, sure of a conscientious diagnosis of your case, if cure is possible. Every letter will be held as a strictly confidential communication. Remember these racts.

Supe of a Cupe

We offer you medical advice from one of the most eminent practitioners in the United States, whether our medicines suit your particular case or not. We offer you this advice at the cost of the two cent stamp which it will take to bring your letter to our office. Address the Medical Department, Dr. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
